The victims are killed with a mysterious tool, the murderer removes their hearts. A young FBI agent - Nicole Bonnet - is assigned to accompany her more experienced partner, Nick, on this case. However, it quickly turns out that Bonnet will have to accept much more responsibility for this investigation.

What are the culprit's motives? What is the link between the victims? What is the murder tool? Why was such an important case given to an inexperienced agent?

3. Nicole's CV

NICOLE BONNET

Born: 1978.06.02. in Hillsville

Marital status: single

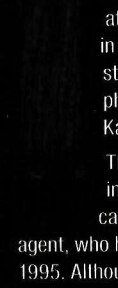

Distinguishing marks: none

C.V.:

Nicole Bonnet was born and raised in a small town of Hillsville in south-western Virginia. Her father, Pierre Bonnet, who came to America from France, still runs a car garage there. Her mother, Alicia Palmer Bonnet, is an architect.

Since school, Nicole was interested in psychology and philosophy. She read Husserl and Kant in high school, also being especially appreciative of Descartes' Metaphysical Meditations. In the end, she chose philosophical studies at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville. During her studies she devoted herself to phenomenological research of Karl Gustav Jung.

The person who had the greatest influence of Nicole's professional career was her uncle, an FBI agent, who had been killed in action in 1995. Although right after graduating Nicole started work with the staff of the congress of Virginia, she applied to FBI in 2005. She finished her training in Quantico in 2006.

One of the lecturers from the FBI Academy said about Nicole: 'She has a unique talent to combine analytical and synthetic thinking, as well as using both mathematical and humanistic knowledge. She is beyond any doubt naturally inclined to work as an investigator. Her keen mind, extraordinary intelligence and the ease with which she is able to link key facts make Bonnet one of the most promising agents who graduated from Quantico in 2006.'
